This diagram illustrates the exploded view of a 6276 light fixture. It consists of five main components: two mounting plates (labeled M), two lenses (labeled L), and two covers (labeled K). The mounting plates (M) are shown at the top, with one having a circular detail callout. The lenses (L) are positioned below the mounting plates. The covers (K) are shown at the bottom, with one having a circular detail callout. The components are arranged in a staggered, exploded fashion to show their relative positions and assembly sequence.
